The McCormick street mess gave a very elaborate chicken dinner to a few invited guests on Saturday last, the occasion being the birthday of one of their number, Will J. Curry. The expression of good will expressed for the latter together with the wishes for his future attest to his popularity among his companions and will serve to cheer him on his way to the next mile stone of life.

The JOURNAL-MINER extends its congratulations to Dan L. Robinson and bride who were married September, 1st at the residence of the latter's parents in the Verde Valley. Dan Robinson is one of the most popular young men in the Valley while his young bride is equally respected for her many traits of pure womanly character. Our sincere wish is that their matrimonial bark may encounter no breakers on the sea of life.

Last Night's dance.
The dance and supper at Curtis' ranch last night proved to be a delightful success. Eighteen couples, representing Prescott, Whipple and the adjacent country, tripped lightly to well-timed music until 12 o'clock, and then adjourned to the dining room to partake of an elegant repast. Merry were the couples clustered around the tables. Wit and humor ran riot until Terpsichore claimed his rights once again, and the fantastic was toed until 3 o'clock, after which came a delightful drive homeward, with all well pleased and happy.

The "Horse" of Tooth Pulling Game.
Drs. D. and J. Pentland have, after considerable expense, commenced the manufacture of "nitrous oxide gas" for the absolutely "painless extraction" of teeth. They will continue to keep a good supply always on hand of pure fresh gas, so that the most timid may no longer dread the extraction of troublesome teeth.

Governor Ross of New Mexico and Governor Zulick of Arizona, are both laying claims to the credit of Geronimo's capture. The fact is that the credit of the forced surrender of this fiend of Hades belongs to the military alone, under General Miles' command.

An exchange very aptly says that a local newspaper is often accused of being biased in regard to giving personal notice of mentioning the coming and going of some and omitting others and that the accusation is entirely wrong and unjust. The faults are with the people and not with the paper. We are always willing and ever anxious to publish anything of interest to the public, but a country newspaper cannot afford to have a score of local reporters. If you have visitors let us know who they are and where they came from. If anything happens in your vicinity let us know of it; if there is a party at your place furnish us with the items; if you get married let us know about it; if you die come and tell us; if you know anything let us know about it. You will find us as ready to take "notice" of one as another, patron or otherwise, friend or foe. Our object is to give the news.—E. X.

Walnut Grove Primary.

The Robinson-Morris Wedding.

"The groves were God's first temples."
A more beautiful or appropriate temple in which to seal the plighted faith and love of two young and trusting hearts could hardly be selected than the virgin soil, shaded from an early September sun by the far-reaching branches of a venerable cottonwood that has paraded with the winds and storms of a century on the alluvial banks of Clear Creek, "till now it stands many and tall and dark, a fit shrine for humble worship to hold communion with his Maker," and almost immediately beneath whose gnarled roots bursts forth a crystal spring of purest water, that by its vivifying influences helps to weave the verdant roof above us. "Ah, why should we, in the world's ripe years, neglect God's ancient sanctuaries?" "Not a prince in all that proud old world beyond the deep sea waves his crown as loftily as this grand old tree wears the green coronal of leaves with which the hand of God has graced him."

On Wednesday last, September 1, 1886, just as the sun, in an unclouded sky had reached the zenith, Dan L. Robinson, Esq., of Fort Verde, and Miss Emma May Morris, accompanied by Mr. John H. Hicks and Miss Carrie Nash, as best man and bridesmaid, left the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, on Clear Creek, Lower Verde, and repaired a few feet southward to the point whose beauties are but faintly outlined above, and there, in the presence of some thirty relations and friends, were met by their minister of justice, Hon. George W. Hance, who, with solemn ceremony and by virtue of the authority vested in him by the law of the land, proceeded to join them together for life in the sacred relationship of man and wife.

After the ceremony an hour was spent in congratulations, general conversation, etc., when, at 1 o'clock p. m., the entire party sat down to a long table in the umbrageous shadows of the same monarch of the grove, and partook of a sumptuous repast. The exceptional popularity of the groom with the people among whom he has spent so many years of his early manhood, and that the bride is a special favorite among her young associates, were especially manifest in the conduct and conversation of the guests.

Those present at the ceremony and banquet, so far as remembered by the scribe, who writes from memory alone, were Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, parents of the bride, Miss Debby and F. and Johnnie Morris, sister and brothers of the bride, Judge G. W. Hance, of Chino; John H. Hicks and Miss Carrie Nash, of Strawberry Valley; Hon. and Mrs. T. J. Butler, of Prescott; Dr. and Mrs. Maras, Miss Lillian Morris, Mack Rogers, Miss Shull, Lieut. Whipple, of Fort Verde; Joe Marr, Dan and Mrs. Marr, Miss Rhoda, Edna and Maud Marr, of Central Verde; Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Workman, Mrs. Ed. Jordan, Miss Emma Jordan and Mr. Fred Jordan, of Lower Verde.
